Course Description:

This course has two central goals. The first is to give you an understanding of what philosophical problems are and how they might be solved. This will be done through consideration of some perennial philosophical problems, drawing on readings from important figures in the history of philosophy, as well as contemporary authors. The second goal is to develop your analytic and argumentative skills. Topics to be discussed include the existence of god, the nature of knowledge, the relation of mind to body, free will and ethics and the nature of right and wrong.
